Traditional...

The traditional symbol of Carolina, the Old Well.

Parkers protest, as the no-arm bandits swing into action.

The founding of the University is commemorated in front of South Building.

And the University grows.

From the opening days of orientation, "Freddy Frosh" began to adapt himself to the Carolina way of life. School work was often sacrificed to fraternity visiting and hand shaking, and football weekends gave him little time to adjust to school life. By the end of the first semester, he was asking the same questions: Where am I, and what does it all mean?

"Freddy" soon found himself supplying a part of the important foundations in politics, the "Y," musical organizations, publication staffs, sports, and the Carolina spirit.

By the end of the spring semester, "Freddy" had gained a measure of self-confidence. He felt that he knew where he was, and what he was doing.

The aim of our student government is to study and attempt to solve the problems confronting students in the course of their college careers. Its chief functions have been to establish a student administered judicial system, to account for the expenditure of student fees, to draw up all legislation pertaining to student problems, and to make students more conscious of all phases of their government—campus, federal, national, and international.

The special projects of this year's administration have been to support the University Budget request to the State Legislature, to revise the student traffic courts and committees, to put into effect an interdormitory visiting agreement, to study and try to eliminate the self-liquidation of dormitories, to improve the conduct at athletic events, to strive for the control of employees paid through student activity funds, to improve faculty-student relations, and to establish an academic affairs committee.

Student government tries to instill in its citizenry a social conscience and thus contribute to the world community.

The Student Legislature, founded in 1938, is the supreme legislative body of Student Government, and as such, has ultimate responsibility over almost every rule which pertains to Carolina student life. In addition the Legislature appropriates over one hundred and twenty thousand dollars in student fees to various campus organizations each year, controls scores of campus activities, approves all appointments of the President of the Student Body, and makes any laws necessary and proper to promote the general welfare of the Student Body.

The Legislature is composed of fifty students elected from thirteen campus districts. The Vice-President of the Student Body presides over the Legislature as Speaker. All other officers and committee chairmen are elected by the legislators. The Student Legislature meets weekly on Thursday nights in the Phi Halls in New East.

LEGISLATIVE

Chairman

The Student Council is the supreme judicial power. It has the authority to try cases arising from constitutional procedures, from Executive or Legislative action, and from Campus Code violations. This Court also hears appeals from the Election Law, and various lower Student Judicial Bodies.

The Student Council is responsible for upholding the traditions and reputation of Carolina Student Government, and maintaining the high standards of conduct as set forth by the Campus Code.

Since the majority of the cases before the Council are Campus Code violations, the Council has endeavored in the past few years to be thorough, yet practical and corrective in its decisions, leaning towards the establishment of enduring standards and precedents with the hope that a Council of this type shall someday not necessarily be of its present importance in Carolina life. The 1959 Student Council was the most successful in many years, because of the small fraction of the Student Body coming before the Court.

HUGH PATTERSON
Chairman

The Men's Honor Council has original jurisdiction in all cases involving violations of the Honor Code, which is binding to all students at the University of North Carolina. Yet the role of the Men's Council is not restricted to the trial of Honor Code cases but is also one of continually promoting the Honor Code throughout the campus. This year the Men's Honor Council has been exceptionally outstanding not only because of the excellent way in which it has carried out its assigned duties but also because of its continual efforts to promote the successful integration of the jury system into the framework of the court. The success of the jury system as well as the continued success of the Honor System throughout all phases of student life can only be attributed to the outstanding work done by the Men's Council and its continual efforts to instill in the mind of every student the fact that honor is not merely an intangible quality but a very integral part of every man's day to day living.

WOMEN'S HONOR COUNCIL

The Women's Honor Council, composed of three juniors and three seniors, is the highest women's judiciary body. Its function is to decide questions of law and procedure in all violations of the Honor Code in which women are involved. The students' guilt or innocence is determined by a nine member women's jury.

In addition this body, together with three women elected by and from Residence Council, has original jurisdiction in all cases involving violation of the Campus Code, major social rule infractions, and appeals from house council.

It is felt that through acceptance of our Honor System the student receives personal growth and development as well as individual respect for our Honor Code. Finally, opportunities for active participation open to students formulates a democratic atmosphere of mutual trust and understanding between students and faculty.

NANCY ADAMS
Chairman

Women's Residence Council is the women's legislative branch of the Student Government. This Council coordinates dormitory and sorority life by establishing social rules, by granting late permissions, by sponsoring a campus-wide leadership training program for women, and by assuming the responsibility of broadening student-faculty, student-administration, and student-townspeople relationships. Each spring, the editor of the Women's Handbook is chosen, and candidates for the chairmanship of Women's Orientation are interviewed by the Council. Women's Residence Council works closely with the Dean of Women's Office, Women's Honor Council, and the University Administration.

Membership on Residence Council includes the dormitory presidents, a junior member elected as representative-at-large from each dormitory, sorority house managers, House Council coordinator from Women's Honor Council, and an ex-officio member from the office of Dean of Women. The chairman is elected each year in spring elections.

President

MEN'S INTER

Under the leadership of President Rudy Edwards, the IDC has covered quite a bit of ground this past year in trying to improve the living conditions for men residents here at UNC.

Perhaps the biggest change the IDC made in regards to improvements was the establishment of Dormitory Council Courts. Another advantage that was offered to the residents was the Co-Ed visiting agreement, thereby allowing the men to take their dates into the social rooms during certain scheduled hours.

The IDC not only operates the judicial and social functions of the dorms, but it is the uniting body of the twenty dorms on campus. Representatives of each of the dorms meet together twice monthly to talk over and discuss various improvements, changes, and gripes from the men in the dormitories. Therefore, working in the capacity of one big unit, the IDC, with the co-operation of the residents, can do much toward the establishment of a home away from home for the men residents of UNC dormitories.

It was in the spring of 1958 that a positive step to rectify an existing campus problem was taken. The problem was the need for co-operation and co-ordination in and between women's dormitories at UNC. Acknowledged as being pertinent to this problem were the areas of academic, political, social, and athletic activity on campus. With this problem and its ramifications in mind, an executive committee was appointed which drew up a constitution providing for a dorm committee of five members and a council of a junior and a senior member from each dorm committee. Among the many activities of the Carolina Women's Council endorsement or sponsorship this year have been the dorm breakfast for new girls during Orientation Week, the dorm displays for Homecoming, and the award and reception honoring the Outstanding Dorm girl of the year.

The foremost goal of CWC is to enable Carolina women students in making their years here rewarding and fulfilling ones.

Sue Ballantine, President; Jackie Turner, Treasurer; Mary Morgan, Secretary; Joy Pattison, Vice-President.

ORIENTATION COMMITTEE

One of the most vital functions which student government performs here at Carolina is the rigorous and efficient indoctrination of new students to the "Carolina Way of Life."

The Campus Orientation Committee, with Herman Godwin, Jr. as Chairman, planned and supervised the activities of new students during Orientation Week during September of 1958 as well as for the first summer school session. The program was planned to include freshmen, transfers, graduate, and foreign students. The chairman and the committee of twenty students with Katie Stewart, Women's Chairman; Nola Hatten, Graduate Chairman; and Sipra Bose, Foreign Student Chairman; met during March, April, and May to map out the program to be carried out by the 275 student Orientation Counselors. The Orientation activities included meetings with Chancellor Aycock, Dean Weaver, student government officials, and outstanding members of the faculty as well as the Honor System Lectures, registration, physical examinations, and an overall introduction to the institutions and traditions of the University.

CONSOLIDATED UNIVERSITY STUDENT COUNCIL

The Consolidated University Student Council, which was established to fulfill the needs of Consolidated University on the student level, is composed of student representatives from Women's College, North Carolina State, and the University of North Carolina. The Council acts as a liaison group, discussing problems and promoting good will and understanding among the three schools. The members of the Council take these issues back to the administrations and student governments of each branch of the University. To fulfill their purpose of promoting closer relations among the three schools, the Council annually sponsors a Consolidated University Day at WC, NCS, and at UNC.

STATE STUDENT LEGISLATURE

ED LEVY
Chairman

This year marked the twenty-second session of the North Carolina State Student Legislature, held in the Capitol Building in Raleigh. The UNC delegation of thirty-five members was the largest in the Assembly. UNC was represented by three representatives in the Senate and thirty-two in the House, and played an important part in the Assembly this session. An omnibus bill was presented by the UNC floor-leader, Curtis Gans, in the House and by Roger Foushee in the Senate. The bill, entitled "A Resolution Insuring the Rights of the Individual," was concerned with stands on segregation, "massive resistance," congressional investigating committees, and discriminatory clauses.

The annual State Student Legislature gives the students of the state an opportunity to discuss and voice an opinion on areas of concern in state, federal, national, and international politics. It also serves to train students in legislative procedures.

Ed Levy served as chairman of this year's delegation, and John Brooks and Paddy Wall were the members of the State Interim Council.

NATIONAL STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The University of North Carolina was instrumental in the founding of the United States National Student Association a little over a decade ago and has since played an active and vital role.

Here in Chapel Hill, it is the responsibility of the National Student Association Committee (appointed by the Student Body President) and the NSA Coordinator (elected by the student body) to act as a link between UNC and the national organization. The national organization acts as an organ of the 350 plus member schools.

By participating in the National Student Congress, the Foreign Student Leadership Project, the Student Responsibility Project, and Educational Travel, Inc., the committee carries out nationally coordinated programs. The National Student Association Committee has undertaken several unique projects this year: organizing a Regional Speakers Bureau, investigation of the racial question by the Desegregation Subcommittee, and planning for the Southern Student Human Relations Conference.

GRAHAM MEMORIAL

Graham Memorial Student Union provides a pleasant combination of facilities and activities that is almost certain to prove appealing to every student on campus.

In spite of crowded conditions, there is still a comfortable haven for relaxation in the Main Lounge. Nearby, the TV Room, the game rooms, and the Rendezvous Room are busy with less quiet activity.

Upstairs, student organizations continue their endeavors in crowded quarters, meeting rooms become office space — so does the basement of Smith Dorm — and additional rooms for meetings are provided in Alumni Building.

The hope for a new student union building continues strong. To many, the chances this year seem the best yet. The need is obvious. Graham Memorial, beautiful but never completed — over a quarter of a century old — can no longer provide the facilities needed by today's student body. Graham Memorial will continue to do the best possible job today and will constantly prepare for tomorrow.

GRAHAM MEMORIAL

GMAB, a term heard so frequently at Carolina, is the programming arm of the student union. Its primary purpose is to plan and conduct a wide variety of recreational, educational, and cultural programs and activities for the entire student body. The students who make up GMAB are all interested individuals who wish to give their time and services to provide themselves and their fellow students with interesting and productive leisure time activities.

COMMITTEE HEADS

Seated Betty Zea, Edna Fay Pugh, Glenna McGinnis, Cathy Carter. Standing: Angus Duff, Graham Adams, Bob Borden, Lewis May.

ACTIVITIES BOARD

There are thirteen committees which produce the activity of GMAB. Students find great enjoyment of mind and pocket-book watching the Free Flicks, which are run twice weekly. Combo dances or free juke box music in the Rendezvous Room offer the energetic and dance-minded the chance to "shake a leg." A monthly calendar, put out by GMAB, enables every student to know what is happening "over at GM." Many find great enjoyment and entertainment in the Petite Musicales, which are intermingled throughout the school year.

Student talent in acting, staging, dancing, etc., comes alive with the production of "Sound and Fury," the yearly all student musical comedy. Bridge, Ping Pong, and Pool enthusiasts get the chance to play and to win prizes in the tournaments sponsored by GMAB.

Around Christmas we see a lovely decorated student union building, part of the work of the Receptions and Decorations Committee. Dance lessons, drama, polls, parties, forums, and contests are all among the activities that are a part of GMAB.

A chance to work, a chance to play, are offered to all who wish to have the time of their lives participating in the Graham Memorial Activities Board.

Our lounge is the sight of many receptions.

Decorations Committee functions at GM.

The counting of votes in the basement of Graham Memorial goes on till far into the night.

The objectives of the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps are two-fold: to provide a steady supply of well educated Junior Officers, to serve on active duty in the Line or Staff of the Navy or the Marine Corps, and to build up a reserve of officers subject to call in the event of a national emergency.

Students within the program take eight semesters of Naval Science along with the courses in his academic field of choice. There are two drill periods each week.

Activities within the unit include the Rifle Team and the unit newspaper, The Carolina Cutter. The Drill Team and the Drum and Bugle Corps participate at football games and parades in the area. The Quarterdeck Society handles unit sponsored dances and parties which have proved quite successful.

INTERFRATERNITY

TUCKER YATES
President

Under the capable leadership of Tucker Yates, the Interfraternity Council completed one of its most successful years. It has sought to raise the standards of scholarship, brotherhood, and character necessary to any worthy fraternity. To enhance this purpose, the IFC awards again this year the R. B. House Outstanding Fraternity Award, established in 1956. This award, in the form of a trophy, is presented annually to that fraternity on campus which best embodies these ideals and achievements. Greek Week, featuring a pledge banquet, exchange dinners, an afternoon of constructive work in the community, and interfraternity competition in carnival and athletics, was again very successful. This year, in cooperation with Pan Hel, the IFC sponsored a fraternity contribution to a blood bank for North Carolina Memorial Hospital to be used for children with heart diseases.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The IFC, an organization composed of two members from each social fraternity, was founded to govern all social fraternities, to study their problems, and to promote cooperation among its twenty-four components. The IFC Court serves as the judicial body of this organization. The IFC conducts the very extensive rushing program and publishes a handbook, given to all entering freshmen interested in fraternities. This handbook explains rush and its rules, lists each fraternity and its members, and furnishes a short history of each chapter.

Impromptu jam session in the A.T.O. bar

Boasting the longest continuous existence of any Carolina fraternity, '58 found us back on remodeled 229 East Franklin . . . Our top pledges were quickly introduced to a life of beernics, barnics and book-nics . . . Yates held IFC presidency and Cummings rode in saddle of the student body veep; the rest of us joined in different activities around campus.

Our social life varied with sorority parties, impromptu jam sessions, and semi-formal dances. In '58 Chi O capers and Steekerets were still popular. Our jocks, Shaffer, Droze, Burgwyn, and others aided the ranks of almost every Carolina team. How can next year be better?

BETA THETA PI

Beta Theta Pi, the oldest great national fraternity, was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, on August 8, 1839. Eta chapter was chartered in 1852 as the third fraternity at UNC. The fraternity magazine Beta Theta Pi is the oldest of its kind. The national colors are pink and blue, and the flower is the rose.

Thanks to Charlie and Jimmy, 1958 starts with an excellent pledge class. Plundered our way to heights in intramurals under D.K. Somebody said we's have a party and forget the cost. Wes maybe? And all the time George tried to save a dollar. Cliff got excused from chapter meeting, and Joe got a letter from two in Canada. Jenky tried to collect a bill. Legette was the world. "Hold it down boys" — Bender. Otto tried to start a riot. Ace makes Phi Bete. Chuck turned play-maker. Cowan — the best friend a pledge ever had. "Only an optimist smiles before noon" — Roach. Did Forrest say something? P.P. vs. D.T.H. Pfeff vs. the door. Good year ended with trip to Mickey Rooney's beach.

"And we guard our future"

"What's happened to everyone?" Lots of men were lost with graduation and fatal trek down the aisle. Nevertheless, we still see many a familiar face whether in a crowded smoke-filled room or in "Y" Court. Rush was hectic but everyone was happy. The football team kept everyone celebrating and having a good time. While under the leadership of our new president we accepted roles of student, athlete, "mover" and what have you. The 104th year was similar to the past with the exception that everything was bigger and better. Conservatively we assumed the "Forward Look."

The familiar quacking of the infamous duck-call is heard, but inclement weather prevents the dove club from disembarking and Tarzan swings out alone. At twelve o'clock the incredible shrinking couple arrives — for dinner. Luesing descends with the objective of quizzing a pledge, but once surrounded, is soon seen answering questions himself. Sunday dinner ensues, then the Redskins, then postponed assignments. So passes the 108th year of Beta — composed of minutes no Brother would think of trading.

Gamma Nu returned in the fall with high hopes, among those the possibility of a new chapter house, after a year of national fame as a result of the midnight blast at Jack's. A splendid pledge class (congratulations to Vince!) and the election of Lowell as Social Chairman resulted in not a few hard rocking parties. Scode was farther out than ever . . . Fields gave his views on romance (they were pretty good, too). Johnson told us he had been in the Army again . . . White makes long haul to Limestone . . . Read wants to get married . . .

Sherwood is on the ground just for meals . . . Chuck loses car keys at Finley (what was he doing?) and continues to spill tea . . . Lowell and Griset keep working with the bells . . . The fall found our men returning from summer jobs and motor bike tours around the "continent" looking forward to a great year for Omega Beta. Casualties over the summer included Fred who pinned his girl from "Yankee-land." Shortly after the year commenced, Howie and Dick added their names to the list. Rush week proved very successful with twenty five men taking the swingin' route. As the fall parties began with a blast following the State game — the shuffling craze had begun with the "Hot Nuts" at their best on the front porch. Our Parents-Alumni weekend saw the house swing in high gear with the "toughest" party of the football season. Christmas found a mass migration to the Florida beaches. Then came gross exam week . . . what a pain. Everybody works?

Minus one graduate, Stan, we began the new semester with Winter German. Pledge weekend proved to be the social highlight of the year; Beach weekend?? with the advent of June, six seniors bid fond farewell to Carolina and a very successful and enjoyable college career came to a close.

1958 started under E. A. Jimmy Kelly, with impetus added by a superlative pledge class. Time moved forward and resolved itself into a blur of parties and other high spots. Football weekends and our victorious intramural team kept spirits soaring. Then came Germans and our dates, which passed too quickly. With spring came a great S.A.E. week-end. Days grew longer and balmy so the house moved to the beaches for memorable weekends. As seniors draw closer to graduation, they keep friendships and many memories, while those who remain look forward to a bright future for S.A.E.

GERMAN CLUB

1958-1959 proved a banner year for the German Club; we presented three of the best dances in our history and procured some of the best talent in the country.

Fall Germans, held on Halloween weekend, presented Charlie Barnett, the DeCastro Sisters, and comedian Bob MacFadden. Jazz took over in the Winter and Spring, as Chapel Hill discovered that "swing's the thing." Valentine's Day was the theme of Winter Germans, as Kai Winding, Chris Conner, and Dizzy Gillespie added a few hearts and flowers of their own. Then Spring featured the exciting Stan Kenton Orchestra and the ever-popular Four Freshmen. It was a tremendous year.

Each Germans, Woollen Gymnasium is converted into a huge ballroom where Carolina couples dance to the music of the top bands in the country.

With one year behind us, and three ahead, we worked through our officers in an attempt to start and complete several worthwhile projects and one gala social extravaganza held in the spring.

Included in our work, was aiding a leading charity in their annual campus drive, and attempting to make the students more cognizant of their responsibilities concerning the March of Dimes and other similar organizations. Realizing we were a class, we strove for better all-round relationships between the fraternities and the dorms, for better social facilities for all and for the day when class officers will perform their intended functions. It was a year of trial and error, always with the goal of improving the campus for one and all.

On campus to speak on the subject: "The Dimensions of Survival: American Culture in World Focus" were over seventy prominent speakers from throughout the world including Senator Henry M. Jackson of Washington, Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, labor leader Victor Reuther, author and editor Harry Golden, and Pulitzer prize-winning editor Harry Ashmore.

The Symposium is an all-campus project. All leading student organizations, the faculty, and the administration are represented in the promoting committee. Finances come almost entirely from the campus. In 1958 students raised over $5,000 to sponsor the event.

Work is already in progress for the Eleventh Carolina Symposium to be held in the spring of 1960.

The Concert Band, composed of selected instrumentalists.

It's a big Saturday afternoon in Kenan Stadium as the mighty Tar Heels take on another foe. Suddenly, it's half-time and the Marching Tar Heels, led by Drum Major Josh Serkin, take the field. Every eye in the stadium is fastened on the turf as the Tar Heel Band snaps through tricky formations . . . that is, except the Carolina gentlemen, who have eyes only for Head Majorette Jo Carpenter, and Majorettes Judy Huntress, Sue Dent, Jane Midgette, and Nancy Robinson. The spectacle is finished and once again the band returns to the sidelines to await the end of the game and the playing of Carolina's traditional "Hark the Sound." After the game, a tired blue and white band retires to await another week of strenuous rehearsals and formation drills in preparation for the next extravaganza.

The Marching Tar Heels — a trademark of Saturday afternoon activity in Kenan Stadium.

Band activity at UNC is not over with the football season however. Soon after the last cheers have died away from Kenan Stadium, the Concert Band begins operation, playing a varied repertoire of original compositions and transcriptions for symphonic band. Each spring this group makes a concert tour throughout towns and cities in the area, plays several lawn concerts at the foot of Davie Poplar, and gives at least one formal concert in Hill Music Hall. Also, the Symphonic Wind Ensemble, composed of the best musicians in the University band program, gives concerts throughout the year and has gained wide recognition for its musicianship.

CAROLINA PLAYMAKERS

The Carolina Playmakers are a very real Community Theatre. Its famous building was the first state-owned playhouse in the United States to be dedicated to the writing and producing of native drama. The Playmakers' work now falls into two categories. First, there is a program of major productions; and second, there are experimental productions written, staged and acted by students. A third category also may be added, for the Playmakers are responsible for bringing to Chapel Hill many professional Broadway productions presented in Memorial Hall.

SOUND AND FURY

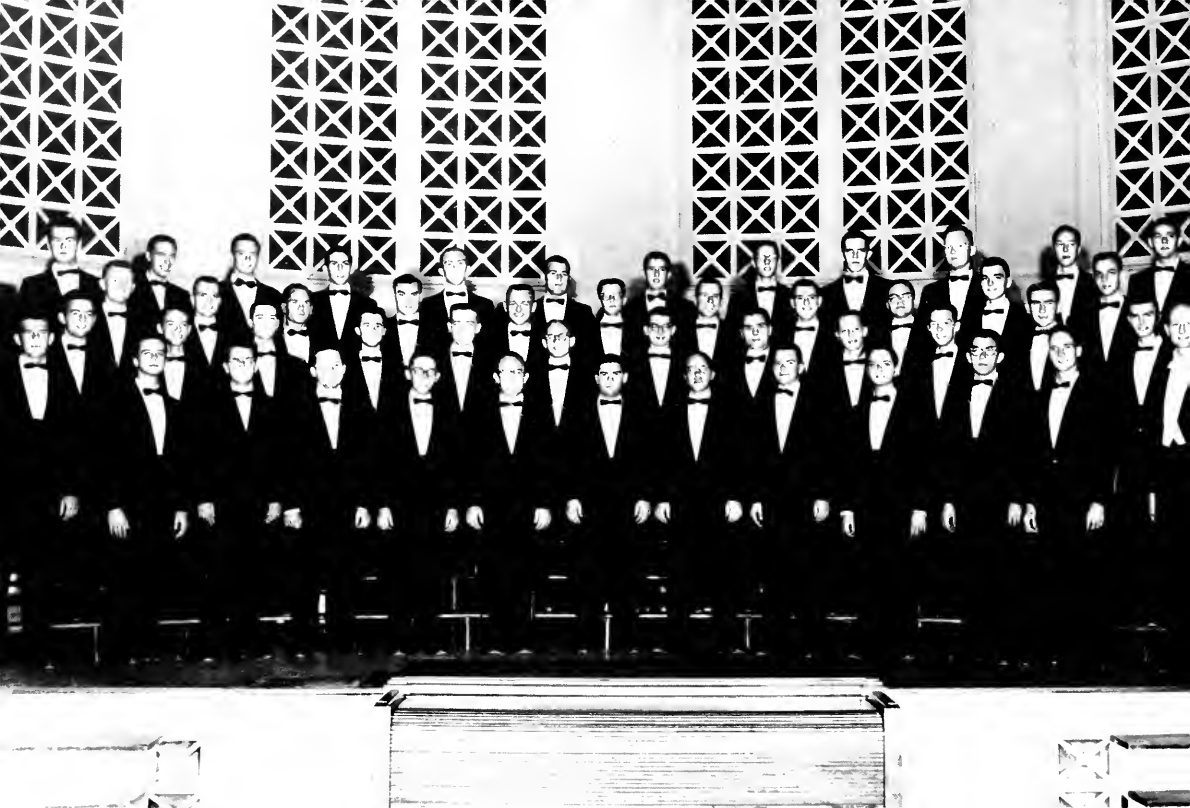

Graham Memorial Activities Board revived Sound and Fury in the fall of 1954 and thereby opened a new era of student musical comedy presentations at Carolina. Since the first production, the organization's newness has been well received by the students. Featuring an all-original score and script and born of student spirit and ambition, Sound and Fury has as its purpose the production of musical comedy which will appeal to the student body as a whole. Giving an outlet for untrained student talent and energy has been its greatest achievement.

Strains of music ranging from Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" to Carolina's "Hark the Sound" float across the campus as the Men's Glee Club rehearses for its next appearance. Composed of fifty-five Carolina gentlemen, the University's only traveling choral group conducts two annual tours covering large portions of North Carolina and the entire eastern seaboard, performing in tuxedos or their traditional blazers. The performance at University Day exercises, the Christmas Concert in Hill Hall, and a joint concert with their sister choral group from Woman's College round out a typical successful year.

Continuing its rather impressive tradition, The Carolina Quarterly was able to present its readers throughout the world with some of the best of the year's contemporary literature. The staff of The Quarterly felt a particular responsibility to publish literary work which could meet its high standard of excellence as well as demonstrate a commendable degree of success at experimental expression.

Yackety

It has been said the secret to being a good executive is the ability to pick those people who can do a better job than you can and hire them. With this in mind, this year's editor went to work. With a great deal of luck, a topnotch staff was directed and the preparation of material for the yearbook began with the taking of class pictures.

The Daily

To present the news accurately, to seek out the why's of the news, and to provoke thought were the aims of The Daily Tar Heel during the past year.

It was a year of building and rebuilding. Advertising was placed under a new system, which brought the largest single issue in the newspaper's history.

Editorially fraternities, athletics, the state of the University, segregation, honor councils, foreign policy, and other topics excited interest and controversy.

SPORTS STAFF: Bart Forbes, Rusty Hammond, Elliott Cooper, Jerry Garrison.

Tar Heel

The Daily Tar Heel, official publication of the University, is printed six days a week during the regular school year except during the examination periods. It employs Carolina students exclusively, and enjoys a reputation which places it among the top campus newspapers in the country. The staff this year was the largest for several years on the paper, and to the many who worked regularly in getting out the paper daily goes the credit for this year's Daily Tar Heel.

1958 proved to be a red-letter year in University publications. The organization of the Carolina Playbill added another publication to Carolina's "Pub Row," while making an attempt to complement the University's record of producing some of the finest college publications in the country.

Organized for the purpose of presenting the students with a program of coming events and activities to the campus, Playbill's aim is to eventually become one of the most widely-read Carolina publications.

Operating under the auspices of the Publications Board with offices in Graham Memorial, the staff began the "long, hard struggle for success" in December after the Student Legislature had authorized the magazine.

The Carolina Handbook, a publication of the YMCA, is the University's official orientation guide for all new students. It has enjoyed a sound reputation since 1891 for giving new arrivals a view of campus life in all its aspects.

The Handbook has expanded with the University from the first 16 page edition to its present 152 page form. In 1957, the Student Government made an appropriation of $1,200 to help its support. This increase in the budget has enabled the staff to present to new students an up-to-date, colorful picture of the Carolina way of life.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The officers of the class of 1960 placed before the students a plan which centered around greater class unity and better class participation in campus activities.

They pledged to do everything possible to keep student government in the hands of the students, to bring about more effective participation of all students in the student government, and to create more respect for the Honor System.

Re-creation of spirit and a feeling of identification of each person with his class was also a major goal.

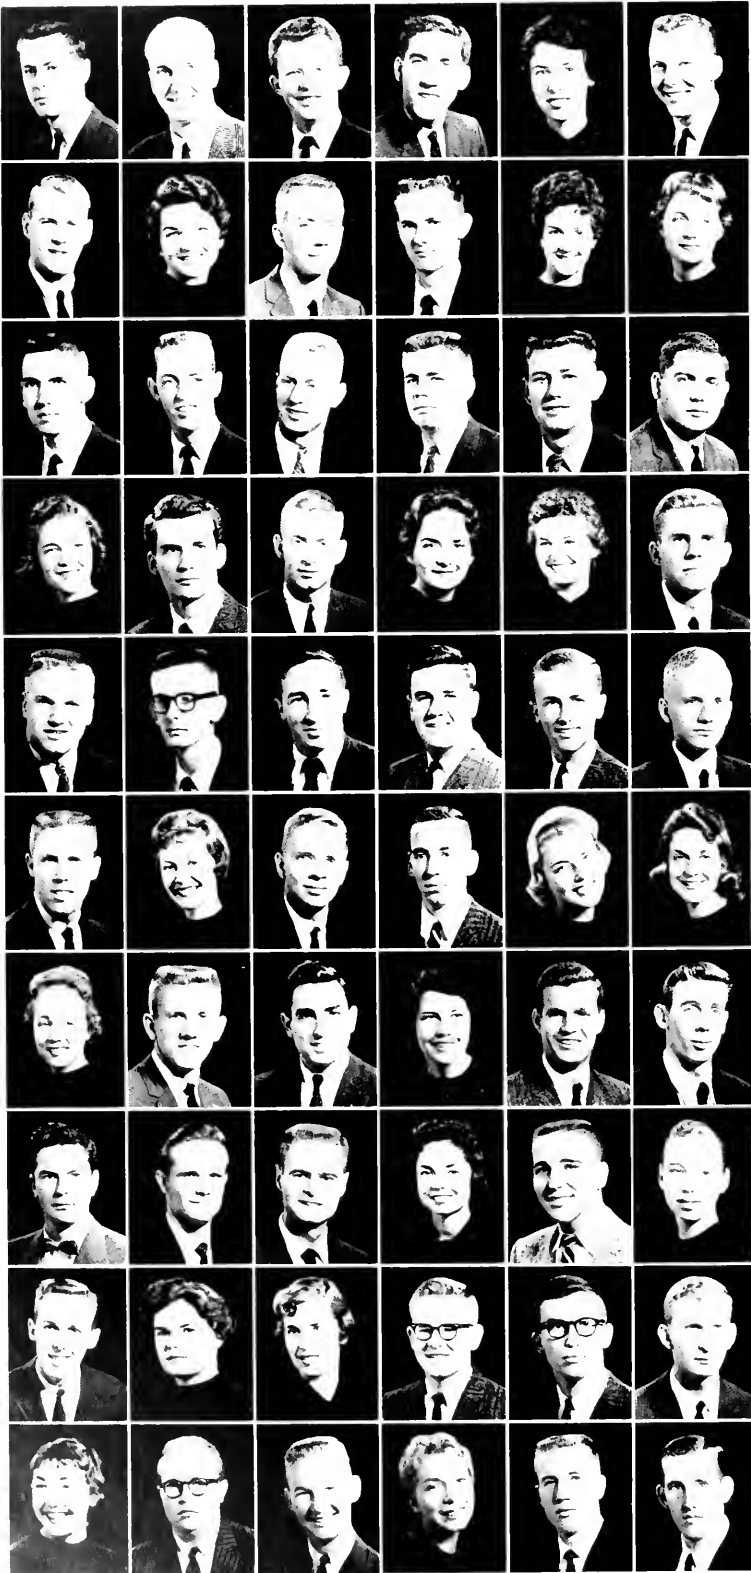

Special activities for the Junior Class were planned by the class officers which would help attain these goals.

"Okay, straight ahead now. It'll be on the left; just look for a service station made out of rock."

And the conversation takes on a little more meaning your junior year, even if South Building in the background seems to have your diploma firmly in its clutches.

"It's a good thing I came along, or you would have slept all afternoon!"

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

The Panhellenic Council is composed of the Panhellenic advisor, Martha DeBerry, and the President, Rush Chairman, and Panhellenic representative from each of the seven UNC sororities.

The purpose of this organization is to establish understanding and cooperation among the various sororities. By discussing and reaching decisions regarding problems of sorority life, Panhellenic is able to set standards that are mutual for all groups. The Council also draws up and enforces the sorority rushing policies at Carolina.

During the year, Panhellenic participates in various service projects, both in the town of Chapel Hill and on the UNC campus. In addition, they take part in activities sponsored by other Panhellenic groups from nearby schools and towns.

STRAY GREEKS

The Stray Greek Organization is composed of sorority girls whose chapter is not represented on this campus. Its aim is to provide a social outlet for its members, and to preserve the bonds of unity and sisterhood in sorority life.

This group was founded in 1944 under the leadership of Twig Branch. It has gained more and more recognition on campus since then, and its membership is now twenty. This year the Stray Greeks handled the Panhellenic Post Office during sorority rush week, and each member served as a Panhellenic Advisor in her own dormitory. The Stray Greeks also took part in the Woman's Athletic program, service projects, and social events.

Symphony: first rehearsal in September with Sallie as conductor and forty members in on the session. The result — twenty-three top pledges and plenty of harmony. As the year progressed Lew directed, Ess trained the ingenues, and Walkie kept track of the notes. Martha kept us in the black while Doug kept us studying the score. We took intermission for fraternity parties, pledge weekend, and side trips. But our girls found time to make music with student government, YWCA, WAA, and other combos. Kack and the Circle kept our singing on key while Brink and Dee Dee made us bop. A pretty girl is like a melody, and our Yack beauties proved it.

Graduation — and so ends the Carolina concert.

 And Bee flitted around, without care.
 Hartzog in robe and Katie in wrap,
 Had just settled their books, no hope of a nap.

Leslie and Joan were picking the lock
 To see what goodies were in stock.
 When out on the fire escape there arose
 such a clatter,
 Cecile's and Sally's teeth did chatter;
 What to wondering eyes should appear,
 But Cherry Bomb in can of beer!

YOUNG CHRISTIAN

The University YMCA is a non-denominational, lay movement of students, faculty, and friends, which seeks to put into living the principles of the Christian faith. This is done through the media of service, worship, study, and action.

Ninety-eight years on the Carolina campus makes this Association one of the oldest student YMCA's in the world. Throughout its history the YMCA has had voluntary membership and is open to all on the basis of interest, without regard to creed, race, doctrine, or church affiliation.

MEN'S ASSOCIATION

At the heart of the movement is the objective: to accept a student where he is and give him the opportunity to grow as an individual in Christian dedication and effectiveness. Through its varied areas of programming, the YMCA serves to meet this objective. The program areas include International Relations and United Nations, Student Directory, Y-Nite, Freshman Camp, a weekly television show, Human Relations, Carolina Handbook, European Seminars, study groups, and many more.

The YMCA serves to meet the needs and concerns of the students; and this enables it to retain a dynamic, changing program.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The Young Women's Christian Association is a fellowship of women students who desire to discover for themselves the highest ideas of Christian living and service.

With this purpose in mind, the Carolina YWCA, a part of the National and World YWCA, functions as a non-denominational Student Christian movement.

The membership is open to all coeds. Six executive officers and twenty-two committee chairmen comprise the cabinet. The program is initiated and carried out by the students according to their needs and interests.

The various activities provide an opportunity for every woman to realize a fuller and more creative life by serving and working with others. Some of the program areas which include this purpose are the TV program Dimensions, United Nations Seminars, Community Work, and "Y" Night.

UN display draws interested spectators.

CANTERBURY CLUB

When Canterbury Club members returned to the University last fall, they found that the new wing of the Chapel of the Cross was completed and ready for use. It did not take the students long to find the office of the Chaplain, the Rev. Robert Insko, and then explore the rest of the new building, which includes the student lounge, library, and many new classrooms. The slate of outstanding speakers, including Bill McGovern, Kay Kyser, and Paul Green, assured Canterbury Club of a most successful year. The production of the religious drama "The Sign of Jonah" and the presentation of the Feast of Lights were other highlights of the year. This is the Canterbury Club as Episcopal students know it — the organization within the student congregation that aims toward a closer relation with God through Christian fellowship, worship, service, and study.

This year's officers are Jack Mitchell, President; Angus Duff, Vice-President; Nan Robinson, Secretary; Penny Boone, Treasurer.

THE BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

Although the Baptist Student Union links the campus with the church, it does more than this. It is the school and proving grounds for our Christian Faith — the instrument through which we are confronted with the Christ of the Gospels in the twentieth century and His relevance to our lives. Through varied programs of worship, study, service, and recreation we are made aware of our vocation as students and the implications of our Faith for all the world.

NEWMAN CLUB

Newman Club members meet in the basement of the church for breakfast and social hour on Sunday mornings.

TATE ROBERTSON
President

The Newman Club is a nationally federated organization whose basic purpose is to "deepen the spiritual, intellectual, and social interests of Catholic students."

The meetings are held on the first and third Sundays of the month in the newly erected St. Thomas Aquainus Chapel. During the school year, Communion Breakfasts are held from time to time.

The officers for the year are Tate M. Robertson, President; Patricia A. Heeden, Vice-President; and Sandra J. Regenie, Secretary-Treasurer.

HILLEL FOUNDATION

The B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation is the organization through which the American Jewish community seeks to establish liaison between the Jewish student and the historical Jewish heritage. Established on either full-time or part-time basis on two hundred American campuses, Hillel is designed to provide the Jewish student with adequate and accurate knowledge of all aspects of Jewish life. In order to achieve that goal, Hillel, through the leadership of the Director and the Student Council, plans forms of activity in the realm of worship, cultural and social activity, and any other form of program that can meet the basic needs of the Jewish student. In addition, Hillel cooperates with other campus organizations in whatever way can prove constructive and desirable.

Finally, Hillel considers that it functions not only for the undergraduate student, but for the graduate and the Jewish Faculty as well. In short, the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation serves as a comprehensive "Jewish Community Center" on campus.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Lutheran Student Association of America exists as a movement of students concerned with the development and expression of their faith. LSA members at Carolina seek through its program to gain a deeper understanding of their Christian faith and its relevance to life.

Lutheran Student Association members meet every Sunday night for supper, worship, and a program, usually featuring a speaker, panel, or group discussion. Several study groups are also sponsored during the year. Exchange meetings with nearby schools are held frequently, and members participate in LSA state, regional, and national conferences.

Officers are Susanne Mosteller, president; James Kinney, vice-president; Charles Jarrett, secretary; and Ray Yount, treasurer. Committee chairmen are Marvin Barge, Jim Reynolds, Leonard Carpenter, Charles Sowers, Lawrence Lohr, Eddie Faires, Agnes Bell, John Wise, Shirley Cloninger, and Bill McCullough. COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

The Cosmopolitan Club is a group open to all foreign and American students, faculty, and townspeople. The meetings provide an opportunity to get together socially and to exchange the cultural ideas of the thirty different countries represented in the Club. Group participation in many programs within the group help promote mutual understanding and friendship among the members.

The regular meetings consist of a social hour and programs given by the members about their countries and programs used as an introduction of foreign students into the U.S.A. The Club's big events of the year are its International Dinner and International Open House in which the food, songs and dancing presented from the many areas of the world are provided by the membership.

As a means of providing the opportunity for leadership among the foreign students, the slate of officers are changed each semester. Dr. A. C. Howell is our advisor.

Class activities and projects reach their peak in the senior year at U.N.C. The activities of the class of 1959 were placed in three general categories: gift, alumni, and social.

Traditionally, each year's graduating class presents a useful contribution to the school as a token of remembrance from the class. The gift presentation will take place at the Commencement ceremonies.

During the spring, the class was organized for its role as a unit in the General Alumni Association. Miss Alumna and Mr. Alumnus were elected by the class and will act as its permanent alumni officers.

The social activities reached their peak during Senior Week which was held during the first part of May.

And we listen . . .

The purpose of Alpha Phi Omega is to assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop leadership, and to promote service to humanity. This imposing objective includes four fields of activity: 1. Service to the student body and faculty; 2. Service to youth and community; 3. Service to members of the fraternity; 4. Service to the nation as participating citizens.

A few Alpha Phi Omega service projects are sponsoring Parents' Day, operating a non-profit Book-Ex, selling magazines at a discount, ushering at student functions, providing scout camp scholarships, and assisting in the Community Empty Stocking Campaign.

To its members, Alpha Phi Omega provides fellowship, leadership, and the satisfaction of serving others. William Roth, one of Rho Chapter's past presidents, is now the national president of Alpha Phi Omega.

In addition to its service projects, Rho Chapter has a number of supper events, banquets, and social outings during the year.

HISTORY

Alpha Epsilon Delta is a national honor society for pre-medical and pre-dental students. It was founded at the University of Alabama, April 28, 1926. There are over 13,000 members in 64 active chapters throughout the U. S.

The North Carolina Beta Chapter was founded at the University of North Carolina on March 27, 1936. The object of the society, to recognize excellence in pre-medical and pre-dental scholarship, has grown to include stimulation of the pre-medical and pre-dental student by presentation of speakers from the medical field, assistance to him by helping him to realize his responsibilities in his pre-professional education, and benefit to him by the offer of the companionship of similarly interested students.

HISTORY

Phi Mu Alpha was founded at the New England Conservatory of Music in 1898. Its aims are to advance the cause of music in America and to foster the mutual welfare and brotherhood of students of music.

Alpha Rho Chapter, founded in 1926, takes an active part in furthering musical activities at the University of North Carolina; each year the chapter presents a concert devoted to the performance of works by American composers and frequently including compositions by members of the fraternity. Whenever possible, Phi Mu Alpha brings to the campus well-known artists.

The National Science Foundation extended an invitation to fifty high school teachers of science and mathematics to attend the second Institute of Natural Science at the University of North Carolina.

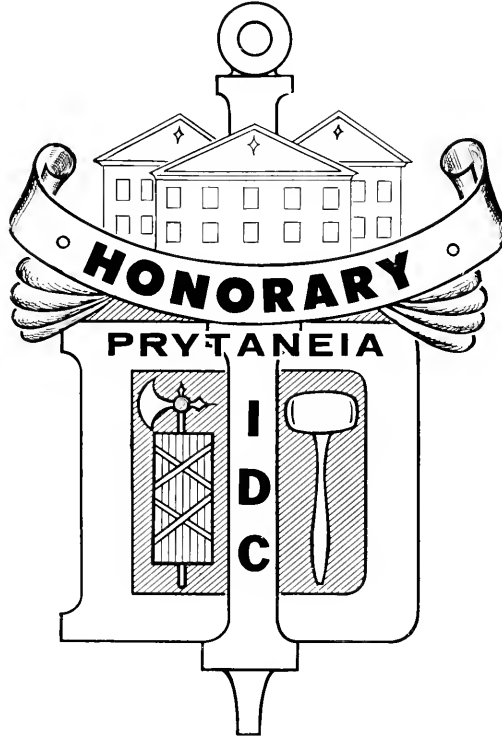

Teachers from many states gathered to spend a year reviewing basic principles and new developments in their various fields of interest.

Fortified with this year of intellectual refreshment, many with new Masters' degrees, this group is ready to return to their schools to lead the vital campaign for a better informed public.

WRIGHT

The 1958-59 year began with "chief honcho" Leftwich and Bryant taking charge of the house painting. The "old soldier" Jerry Leonard, hasn't faded away, having served an extended tour of six months. Williams, Rowe, Wright and company welcomed the alumni after the homecoming game with a resounding chorus of "My Ding-a-Ling." "Sweetie" Frank Hooper and Gerald Suddreth returned from their western pea-picking expedition.

Odds and ends around the house: Pugh, my bid? Daniel, time for Maverick. Hayes, get me a Pepsi, pledge. King to Ellwanger, let's hit governmental. Drye to Slater, let's discuss the idiosyncrasies of the pledge class. Smith, come answer the phone, pledge Willie.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

ELIZABETH L. KEMBLE
Dean

The University of North Carolina School of Nursing was established in 1951 as an autonomous unit within the University and the Division of Health Affairs. A four-year program was designed to prepare nurses for beginning positions in the profession. In 1955 full accreditation including that for public health nursing preparation was granted by the Accrediting Service of the National League for Nursing.

The School now offers three different programs, and enrollment is increasing remarkably. High school graduates are admitted to the four-year curriculum leading to the degree Bachelor of Science in Nursing. Registered professional nurses are admitted with advanced credit to the general program to complete the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in nursing. Students with a degree comparable to the B.S. in Nursing granted by this University may enter the graduate program leading to the degree Master of Science in Nursing with a major in either nursing administration or teaching in psychiatric nursing.

Other indications of progress are further developments in the continuation education program and research activities.

PHARMACY SCHOOL

The sixty-first year of pharmaceutical education at Carolina is one to be remembered, as it is the last year in which Howell Hall will house the School of Pharmacy. The fall of 1959 will find the pharmacy students and faculty in a new building on "Medical Hill" with the other schools of health affairs. Our school, which is the only institution of pharmaceutical training in this state, offers now a four year course leading to a degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy. In 1960, the course will be extended to five years with one year of pre-pharmacy. On the graduate level, degrees of Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy are offered.

Organizations connected with the school such as the Student Branches of NCPA and APhA, Rho Chi, Kappa Epsilon, Phi Delta Chi, Kappa Psi, and the Pharmacy Senate are, as always, beneficial in student pharmaceutical education. The school's social calendar is highlighted by the freshman picnic, Christmas party, pharmacy weekend, and fraternity pledge dances.

This is the School of Pharmacy — dedicated to the development of qualified and well rounded pharmacists to carry on the work of our time honored profession.

The moods of

STUDENT LIFE

What is an iridescent mood? All of us have experienced it at one time or another — some of us more than others. It can be that glow that surges within us after a spontaneous achievement — it can be that confident feeling that for once you look just right and are doing the right thing — or it can be that feeling of extreme pride in what another does. You felt it when your favorite rushee “shook up,” when your Tarheel cagers won a close one, and when you got that B instead of a C in Sociology 51.

GLOOM

Unfortunately, gloom crept into our college lives at times, too. You felt it in the form of a letdown after the Duke football game . . . that weekend when your girl was supposed to come but couldn't . . . the time you finished your studying and then found three more chapters to read.

Sometimes we think too much

Party, but no date

... it happened, Dook won

FASCINATION . . .

Fascination overcame us on many occasions. Sometimes it took the form of a new experience or new acquaintance — at other times it was more subtle and perhaps brought about by a sentimental song, a picture of an old flame or a soft, familiar voice. You felt fascinated when you first saw Carolina's blossom covered campus in the spring, when you found there was some real talent in the Y talent show, or when you first saw that cute blond in your Psychology class.

Soft lights and subdued music at a Chi Phi party

The time, the place, the people — all affected our moods at Carolina

CAROLINA MOODS

Iridescence, gloom and fascination are just a sample of the moods we've experienced during our student life at Carolina. Sometimes we were afraid — afraid of our grades, our blind dates, our first drink . . . and sometimes even afraid of our friends. Sometimes we were determined — to get that book report in on time, to pass algebra, to show Friday night's date and, of course, to graduate. Many times we were nostalgic — remembering the good times last year, the pledge weekend, the beach weekend, or the surprise birthday party. Other times we were confused — did we choose the right fraternity? Did we sign up for the right courses? Should we really go out tonight or should we study? Should we stop drinking now or just have one more? We were angry, happy, mischievous, angelic, sensuous, bored, nervous, relaxed — we were experiencing the moods brought about by the unique interaction of our personalities with the situations created by student life at Carolina.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

For more than a century the University of North Carolina has offered instruction beyond the Bachelor's degree. A Master's degree in course was awarded as early as 1856 and the first degree of Doctor of Philosophy was conferred in 1883. On these pages are some of today's aspirants for graduate degrees which may be earned in more than fifty curricula, including most departments in the arts and sciences and many areas of professional training.

HISTORY

From the time of the establishment of Wayne Senate in 1914 at Atlanta Law School, Delta Theta Phi has grown until today it has become the largest fraternal order among students of the law in the United States. Delta Theta Phi also boasts 41 active Alumni Senates. Battle Senate was established at the University of North Carolina in 1923, and is proud to associate with 64 other Student Senates in the claim that "OUR RECORD IS OUR PROUDEST MONUMENT."

The object of Delta Theta Phi is to unite fraternally congenial students of the law, to lead them and their fellow students to high scholarship and legal learning, to surround them with an environment such that the tradition of the law and of the profession may descend upon them, to promote and to advance the interests of the law.

The motto: "JUSTICE FOR FELLOW MEN, HONOR TO GOD AND LOVE FOR BROTHER."

"Why do you think I killed her?"

The judge

"Yes, it does look like a flower pot, now that you mention it."

And now, Miss . . .

PSI OMEGA

This year has been a very successful one for Chi Upsilon Chapter. Under the able leadership of Grandmaster Rogers, we experienced one of our most successful rush seasons. The fraternity lab had a complete face-lifting job giving us very adequate lab facilities, plus a spacious chapter room. Our activities included speakers, dances, banquets, alumni party and the usual grind. With increased membership through the years, Chi Upsilon has as one of its primary goals, the establishment of a permanent chapter house to be dedicated to a finer dental fraternity.

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

EDWARD G. MCGAVRAN
Dean

According to Dean McGavran, "Public health is the science of the diagnosis and treatment of the health needs and status of the total community — or body politic as an entity."

UNC's School of Public Health is the fourth oldest of its kind in the United States and one of the thirteen North American Schools of Public Health to be accredited by the American Public Health Association. Professional persons taking postgraduate work learn to function as inter-disciplinary community health teams through lectures, laboratory and field experience in the sciences distinctive and basic to public health.

The faculty is composed of eminent authorities in the specialties of public health with varying professional backgrounds.

The School provides additional service and training to local communities through short courses, refresher courses and workshops for other professional public health workers.

This year the School has outstanding students from thirty-six of the forty-nine states, as well as from thirteen foreign countries. These foreign students are among the top professional health people of their countries. They have enriched the curriculum for all students through seminar sessions and informal discussion of the basic health problems and experiences in their respective cultures.

FOOTBALL 1958

The Tar Heels won six games while losing four. They narrowly missed an appearance in the Sugar Bowl as the season's reward. The heartbreaking loss to Duke in the season's finale kept them at home during the holidays.

They turned out an All-American, end Al Goldstein.

They led the Atlantic Conference Course in both offense and defense, in scoring and defense against scoring.

At that, it was an odd season. Carolina opened by losing its first two games — to Clemson and N. C. State. The Tar Heels finished by dropping the last two — to Notre Dame and Duke. In between the double-defeats they rolled like thunder in a six-game winning skein, exhibiting especially devastating defensive line play.

Along with Goldstein, there were many Tar Heel standouts. The group included Jack Cummings, quarterback, ACC total and passing offense leader, tackle Phil Blazer, halfback Wade Smith, and linebacker Ronnie Koes. All won ACC all-star berths on one team or another, in the biggest honor roll sweep the Tar Heels have claimed in many years.

BASKETBALL

COACH FRANK MCGUIRE

Coach Frank McGuire called it his "rebuilding" year, but it was evident early in the season that he was building fast.

Captain Danny Lotz was the only senior on the squad, but he was surrounded by such able juniors as Lee Shaffer, Dick Kepley and Harvey Salz, and outstanding sophomores York Larese and Doug Moe.

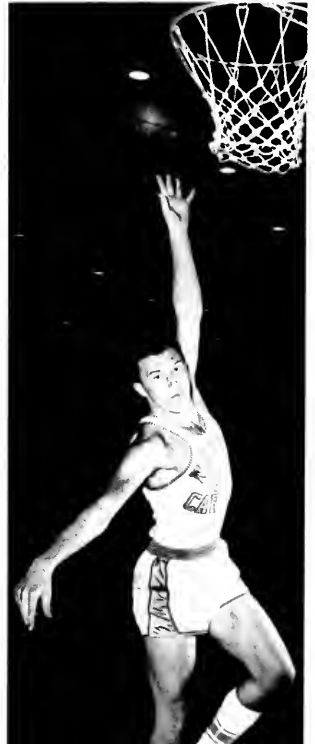

The Tar Heels jelled in a hurry as an exceptionally well balanced and sharp shooting team that streaked off to wins in the first six games, including the Blue Grass Festival championship in a brilliant field.

It finally was stalled in the semi-finals of the Dixie Classic by Michigan State but came back the following night to turn back Cincinnati and Oscar Robertson.

ASSISTANT COACH DEAN SMITH

CAPTAIN DANNY LOTZ

The team embarked into the post-holiday period as three-four in the nation and seemed destined for high places over the season's run, possibly as a contender for the national title, which the Tar Heels won two years previously with a record breaking 32-game run without a setback.

Kepley and Larese won all-tournament berths in the Blue Grass Festival, and Shaffer was all-tournament at Raleigh in the glittering Dixie Classic. It was that sort of a team, with first one and then another player shining brilliantly. Five kept consistently in double scoring figures.

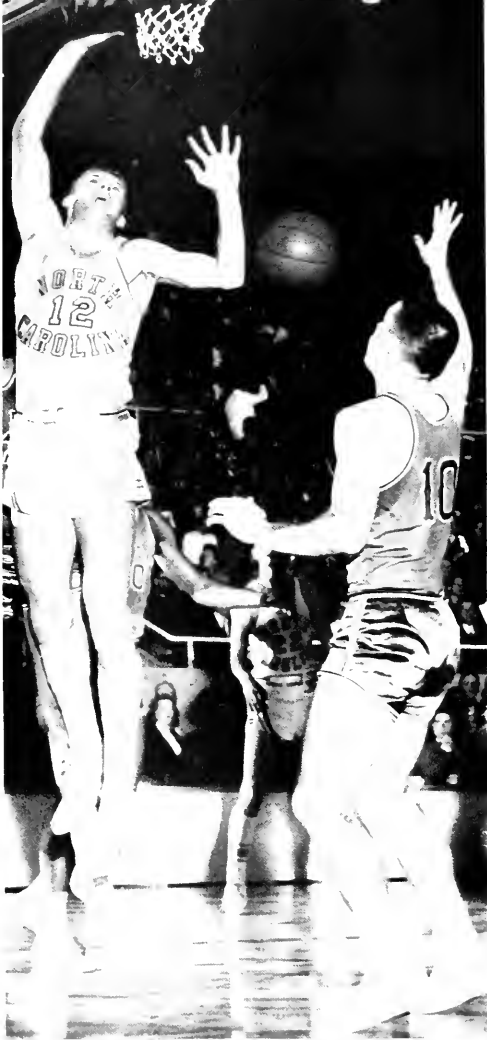

Kepley and Shaffer were the squad's most improved players, showing uncanny advancement in their skills. Larese and Moe stamped themselves early as sophomores of extraordinary promise.

Lee Shaffer jumps against Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati in the final night of the Dixie Classic.

BASEBALL

Coach Walter Rabb expected to spend the 1958 season maturing a crop of sophomores, but it didn't work out that way.

The Tar Heels won 19 games, lost only seven, tied one. Their 11-3 Conference record enabled them to tie Clemson for ACC honors, but they dropped a 4-1 playoff decision to the Tigers.

Pitchers Wayne Young and Ben Harding allowed opponents to less than four runs per game. Young compiled a brilliant 0.89 ERA to accompany his 7-2 record and Harding wound up with a fine 6-1 mark.

Gerald Griffin led the Tar Heel hitters with a .347 average.

SWIMMING

Coach Pat Earey's mermen began the 1959 season with a string of 20 consecutive wins dating back to 1956. They added to that string in convincing fashion each time they hit the water.

The Tar Heel splashers were led by Brent Nash, Kit Mercer, Bob Turner, Dick Cashwell, Pete Reynolds, Harry Bloom, Jeff Zwicker, Chuck Wrye and Bob Hunter.

Although these boys were lacking considerably in experience (only four being lettermen), they opened the schedule with four impressive victories. Off their early showing, they obviously were the class of the conference.

The Tar Heels expected to go through undefeated in Conference competition and to move into Conference and other post season meets as potentially big point makers.

SOCCER

Carolina's 1958 soccer team captured a stout second position in the ACC with a 3-1 conference record and a pleasing overall mark of 8-2.

The Tar Heels dropped a close 2-1 decision to challenge Maryland in the deciding match.

Mike Thompson, Coleman Barks, John Ghanin and Tom Perkins led the Carolina effort throughout the season, and each wound up in the list of ACC top scorers. Thompson collected individual honors for the year with nine goals, three of them coming against Virginia in a 3-2 win.

The Carolina squad set a new ACC record by rolling up 15 scores against Emory.

TRACK

Carolina was represented by the ACC's two outstanding runners, Dave Scurlock and Wayne Bishop, in the 1958 outdoor and indoor track campaign.

Bishop set a new conference meet record of 9:19.5 in the outdoor two mile run. In the Indoor Games Scurlock was first in both the 880 and 600 yard dash.

The track team, beset by injuries, won only three of six matches over the dual season. It finished third, behind Maryland and Duke, in the outdoor meet. The Tar Heels were second, behind Maryland, indoors.

WRESTLING

The Tar Heel Matmen opened their season with a double header, losing to Virginia and Washington and Lee. Following that twin defeat, however, the Carolina team showed much improvement.

Mainstays in Coach Sam Barnes' lineup were Captain Perrin Henderson, Dave Atkinson, Henry Rhyne, Lawrence Hayes, and Herbert Kinsey. All in all, Dr. Barnes had out the most talented group he had been able to field in several years.

MONOGRAM

DON KEMPER
President

The Monogram Club is an honorary organization for the athletes on the Carolina campus who have attained enough promise in their individual sport or sports to merit their earning a varsity letter. Once an athlete has won one letter, he has the privilege of becoming an active member of the Monogram Club. These are the boys who have fought hard for Carolina's glory until the last sound of the whistle. All have worked hard — no one earns a letter without some extra effort and work on his part.

Officers are: Curtis Hathaway, Vice-President; Don Kemper, President; Chuck Erickson, Athletic Director; Phil Blazer, Treasurer; Don Redding, Secretary.

WAA

The Women's Athletic Association offers a wide variety of activities to all women students at UNC. During each season of the year intramurals provide competition in individual and team sports. Besides intramurals the WAA cooperates with the men in planning co-recreational intramurals and the annual "Co-Rec Night." Other activities are play days, competition with other schools, and the annual spring picnic. All women students automatically become members of the WAA.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Athletic Council was inaugurated into the athletic program in 1926 for the purpose of promoting athletics at the University along lines of good sportsmanship and high standards of personal character. All matters pertaining to athletics fall under the jurisdiction and control of the Council, with the provision of full veto power belonging to the President of the University.

PAT DOOLEY
President

The UNC Cardboard plans and stages the outstanding card stunts which are presented at halftime at home football games. The Cardboard's three departments — art, office and usher — function to draw the stunts, decide on colors, and distribute the cards.

Although the card stunts are the main concern of the Cardboard, it operates several committees for posting slogan cards, soliciting membership, publicity, keeping a scrapbook, and preparing the entry in the Beat Dook Parade.

Because of the outstanding leadership of President Pat Dooley and the co-operation of the members, the Cardboard was a great success this year.

CHEERLEADERS

Carolina's 1958-1959 Cheerleaders brought a Tar Heel spirit out of mothballs this year. The beginning of the season found the students bored and quiet. The Maryland game brought some novel new yells out. At Tennessee, Carolina rooters out-yelled the home fans. At Virginia, the Carolina rooters gave up from the exhaustion of cheering for six touchdowns. The Duke game had the largest crowd since 1948, and the cheers were just as loud as those in the "Justice era."

Cheerleaders' faces reflect the tension as Carolina digs in for a goal line stand against Duke.

UNIVERSITY CLUB

"... To encourage interest, attendance and sportsmanship..." These words express the purpose of the University Club in relation to UNC's athletic program, they are its guide.

Each of the year's pep rallies was more successful than the one before. Who can forget the exciting "Fire Dance" by Faye Gooch or lovely Gloria DeHaven's pep talk.

The Club published its first handbook and brought it out at freshman activities day. It featured photos and stories on the upcoming season.
